BOXING GOSSIP.

The officials of the Fairmount A. C. of New York are beginning to worry over the non-appearance of Kitchener and Max Baer to prepare for the bout with Langford. There is a well-known rumor current that Kitchener is listening to the whinnies of "Prize promoters to remain on the coast and take a chance with Papke for Admission day. Joe Woodman is probably in New York by this time, anxious to learn just how matters stand.

The substituting of Billy Rolfe for the opponent of Honey Mellody will be pleasing to the supporters of the South Boston Sox. Rolfe has always done well in his bouts at the Armory A. A. Box and his officials acted wisely when they gave him a fight against a boxer of the type of Abdlady.

Jim Barry, the heavyweight, is a former trouble in California, because of an assault on Phil Brock, the Chevalier and light-eight, and Tom McGinty, a boxer and trainer of Brock. As a result of the assault McGinty is in a poor condition, while Brock was forced to wear a cast on his right hand. Barry ran amuck at the training camp, smashed a mop head over Brock's head, and, when McGinty came to his protégé's aid, was tackled by Barry, who used the broken mop handle as a bayonet and inflicted serious, if not fatal injuries. Barry then fled with a gun and one bullet, passed within a few feet of the police. Warrants were issued against Barry for assault with intent to kill but were later modified to assau

The National S. C. of London offered $12,500 for the Moran-Driscoll contest but Walrus has a syndicate that will surpass this.

Jimmy Clabby has been offered a chance to meet Frank Mantell in San Francisco, Sept. 1. He will accept; Mantell makes 145 pounds.

The new Philadelphia A. C., which opens Aug. 25, will have a seating capacity of 20,000.

Alvin McLean, who is with Sam Ferguson training at Lake Massachusetts, believes Jeffries will beat Johnson in 16 or 12 rounds. He figures that Johnson will cut Jim up somewhat in the earlier rounds, but that the boiler-maker will eventually get home the deciding punch.

Joe Thomas and Harry Mansfield will be the card at the Douglas A. Philadelphia, Tuesday night.

Y. Hattie Turney Murphy will be here before the National S. C. of Pittsburgh Sept. 1. The men will weigh 14 pounds inside and the straight run will prevail.

According to a dispatch from London Freddie Welch, the English pugilist, has arranged for a 15-round pugil contest with Battling Nelson, which is to be fought in the United States September. The battle will be for the world's light-weight championship.

Making a business men have offered a 2500 prize for a 10-round bout between Paddy McFarland and Charlie Jimmy Thompson. The weight question between the pair has been settled, after agreeing to scale 155 pounds at 1 o'clock on the afternoon of the contest.

Alfred Alford clinched a stronger position in the lightweight class by knocking out Benny Roman at 60 seconds on Wednesday night. Alford has a clean record on his hands for the first three months, against his opponent, the postpaid former champion of San Francisco.

Writing from Washington, D. C. Phil Stillersberg, the amateur boxing columnist, says he will discuss with the boys in amateur boxing after which he will discuss the pros to the boxing game. Stillersberg has had several offers to resign and return to wait until his time has expired.

FOREST FIRE

THREATENED TO DESTROY VILLAGE OF SOUTH CHATHAM

SOUTH CHATHAM, Aug. 18. A heavy squall from the west, from northeast to east, threatened to sweep that section of the village of South Chatham from existence, shortly before it yesterday.

The storm started yesterday morning, proceeding from a squall from a passing squall, and in a few hours it was blowing a steady breeze in the direction that it was toward the village, which was directly in its path, would have been destroyed. Yesterday afternoon, however, the wind shifted around and kept the flames were being driven to the station at Harwich. It was then that it was near the village, which lay directly in its path, would be burned. Yesterday afternoon, however, the wind shifted around and last night the flames were being driven in the direction of Harwich. It was there

CLASSY BACKSTOPS ARE NOT NUMEROUS THIS SEASON

By TOMMY CLARK.

The classy catcher is a rare bird. It seems at times that the magnates spend too much time and money in building up great pitching staffs without reckoning on good receivers.

The catcher rather than the pitcher is the real linchpin of the baseball machine. Stationed behind the batsman, he has greater opportunities than the pitcher for observing what a certain batter can and cannot hit. Knowing the man with whom he works, he can tell if his curves are breaking right, can make him work steadily when he is inclined to hurry and can make him hurry when he inclines to the contrary.

Watcher of Bases.

The catcher is the chief watcher of the bases when occupied, passes signals for the pitcher throwing to catch runners too far from the bags and signals the proper time for delivering the ball to the bat.

Aside from all this mental effort, he must snatch off any kind of curve the pitcher lets loose, must dig up wild pitches that go into the grand and must chase the elusive foul fly. He must block runners who slide into the plate and must take his turn at the bat. All this work keeps a man of average intellect or physical ability quite busy.

Yet the catcher, so the majority of the fans think, is a mere machine that stops the curves thrown by the pitcher that the batter misses. Catching is a difficult job in more ways than one, and good catchers are scarce.

Must Use Judgment in Throwing.

There are many catchers in the business with wonderful throwing arms, and still they are not regarded as particularly dangerous; certainly not as great backstops. The chief reason is that they do not use proper judgment in the use of this ability. These runners soon come to know how well any catcher throws and what his curves can be taken with him, how big a lead can be taken off any base, and whether the catcher is likely to take a chance on nipping him off second at critical moments. Great catchers seldom throw to bases prematurely. They go after a base runner only when he becomes too bold and gets too far off the bag, making the play practically sure of success. Base runners soon come to fear such a man more than the one who is continually leaving to the infielders. The catcher who is constantly throwing to get base runners stands more chance of making bad and costly throws than the one who is conservative.

Kling's Great Throwing.

The greatest illustration of the value of the conservative throwing catcher was in the fourth game of the world's series played in Detroit last fall between the Chicago Nationals and the Detroit Americans. The fourth inning of that game was one of the greatest, if not the greatest, ever played on a ball field. The Chicago lead of one run, two runs, the Detroit not having scored. That inning O'Leary of the Detroit led off with a base hit, and Crawford rapped off another. Cobb was up next, and the situation was dangerous. Every one who witnessed the game will remember how Brown forced Cobb to bunt, thus forcing O'Leary out at third. Then came Kling's great throw to Thider at second, catching Crawford off that bag, and removing the possibility of a run for the American leaguers should Claude Rossman hit safely. These two plays—Cobb's bunt to Brown and Kling's throw catching Crawford—insured the second world's championship for the Chicago team.

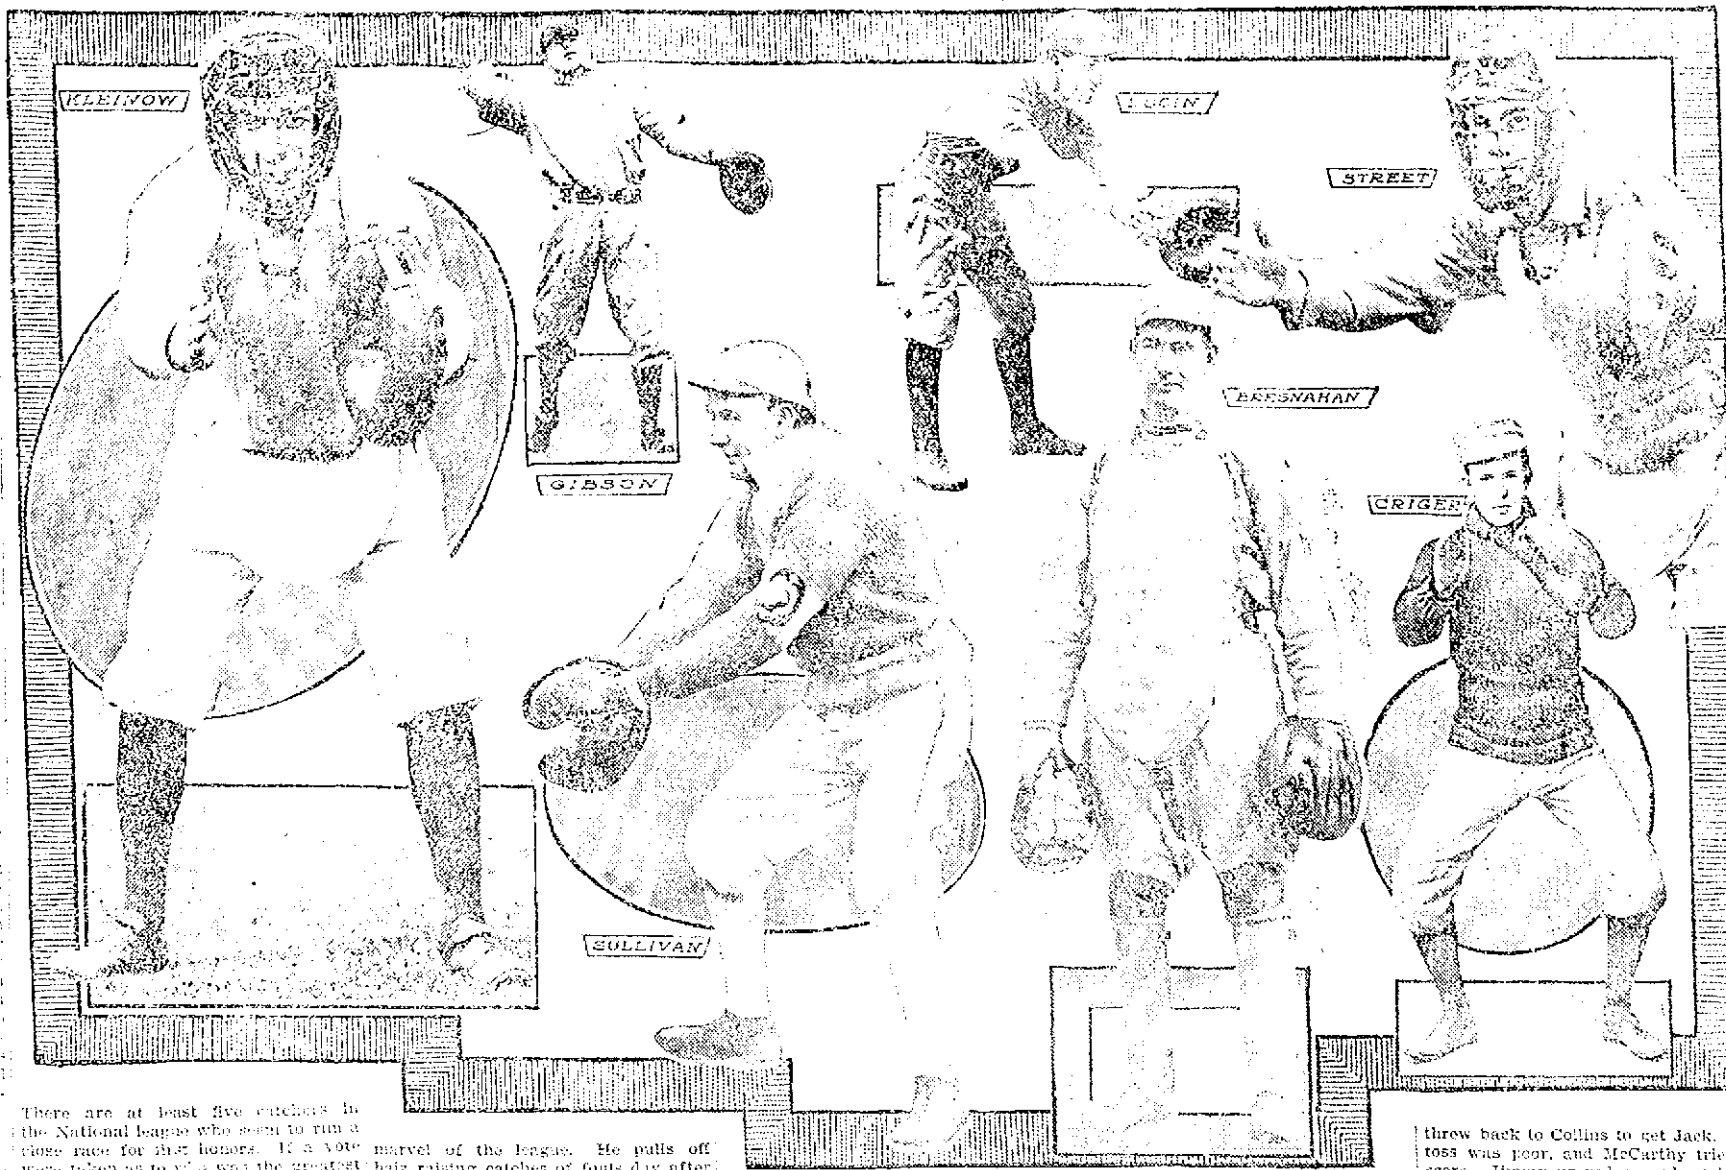

Importance of Position.

Outguessing a batter and knowing in which direction a foul ball is going are two things a catcher can never be taught. There are certain general rules about how to mix up curves, speed and slow balls to a batter, but they are not absolute, and it is up to the catcher to figure out what the man with the stick is looking for and then cross him. There is where baseball counts. If it doesn't anywhere else. A catcher can be taught the weakness of the batsman, but he must possess this quality as well as he is to succeed when he was with the Cincinnati merely a mechanical player. The ability to know which way to turn to go, excellent man to have on the receiving end of the battery, and before the season closes he may do real first class work. Myer, the Indian, in another year will make the stars look to their heels. Brooklyn fans swear by Bill Borah. They regard him as the backstop of the year.

Who Is the Greatest?

With Johnny Kling of the Chicago Nationals out, it is a hard task to pick the best catcher in the game today.

Some of the Leading Catchers of the American and National Leagues.

There are at least five catchers in the National league who seem to run a close race for that honors. If a vote were taken as to who was the greatest backstop in the older organization the men named would undoubtedly be chosen. Archer, who succeeded Moran as the Cubs' regular backstop, is doing the lion's share of the catching for Chicago. Schei is doing the bulk of the work for the New York Giants. Borah is considered the best catcher that Brooklyn has had in years. Gibson is the hero of the Pittsburgh Pirates, while St. Louis fans will swear by Roger Bresnahan. Philadelphia fans and critics alike say that Charley Doherty is Kling's successor.

Chicago fans think that Archer is one of the greatest men that ever appeared behind the bat. Even the Cubs' manager says he doesn't miss Kling a little bit and that Archer fills the shoes of the absent one perfectly. True, he has been a big factor in their winning many games this season, and he is a terror to any players that attempt to rival bases on him, for he can know with the accuracy of a crow's dining. He also is not the worst looking in the game, but has the happy faculty of being able to hit when his arm is aching. But don't let this fool you, for you that he is as good as Kling. The latter was one of the great catchers that ever donned a mask.

It has been due to Gibson's superb catching that the Pittsburgh pitchers have been twirling in such smooth fashion this season. His work behind the bat probably has been the best of them cross him. There is where baseball counts. If it doesn't anywhere else. A catcher can be taught the weakness of the batsman, but he must possess this quality as well as he is to succeed when he was with the Cincinnati merely a mechanical player. The ability to know which way to turn to go, excellent man to have on the receiving end of the battery, and before the season closes he may do real first class work. marvel of the league. He pulls off his raising catches of fouts day after day, and he mows down opponents who try to steal bases on him. His work with the stick is not very good, but with a little practice he would develop into a great swatter and surely become a strong contestant for premier backstop honors.

Roger Bresnahan used to be regarded the foremost catcher in the country; but, having the managerial responsibilities of the St. Louis Cardinals upon his shoulders, he has practically relinquished the duties of backstop. out Schmidt would rank among the foremost catchers of the two leagues. At that he cannot be so bad or Detroit would not have won two pennants with Schmidt doing most of the catching. This season Schmidt has done but little work behind the bat, giving way to the youngster Stange. The latter has given an excellent account of himself this season.

Boston has two good catchers in Corrigan and Donohue, the latter believed back to Collins to get Jack. The toss was poor, and McCarthy tried to score. Jimmy proved a good retriever. He chased the ball to left, recovered it and spun it home in time to get McCarthy. Gochmayer, who had been having a nap on second all this time, now started for third, and again Farrell's throw was poor. The coacher at third took the long chance and waved the "go home" signal to Goch. Johnny kept on, if going at the top speed he used to travel can be called "keeping on." "Make it three, Jimmy," yelled the crowd, and Collins did. He found the ball somewhere out in left field and by a long and accurate throw to Farrell retired the third and last Cleveland runner. The scorers' books after it was all over looked a good deal like a page of copy that a reporter for a Chinese newspaper might have prepared.

SCHEMES TO INCREASE HITS.

Latest Expedient Is the Use of Bigger Bats and Balls.

Those wisecracks of the baseball world who have been turning up grander for several seasons trying to devise a way to help the batsman in his losing struggle against the steadily increasing perfection in the defensive end of the game have overlooked a more simple expedient than has been suggested and one which is worthy of a trial. It is to use a bigger bat and a bigger ball.

Johnny Ball has an abundance of good-looking horses. Among the best the syndicate riding of Madden, Higgs and Woodcock has out. Woodcock is the youngest jockey on the turf at present. He has just passed his third birthday. Woodcock won his first winner in a race when he was ten years old.

He is very seldom played now, and Detroit and the Thomas of the Athletics are the only teams who don't believe. FOUND IN A ROOM

Madelina Vicco, Resident of Tenderloin Was Murdered

NEW YORK, Aug. 15.—A murder in the heart of the Tenderloin was discovered today when the body of Madelina Vicco, 29 years of age, was found on the floor of her room in a building at 127 West 28th street. There was a bullet wound through her heart and the murderer was thrown about the room indicating that a quarrel had preceded the murder. The police searched for an Italian known as "Crino," who lived with Miss Vicco and with whom she is said to have quarreled. The property of an Italian woman known as "Bessie" was found in the room. Excepting a barbershop in the basement the place is a second story building. Inspector Adams, the father, told the police that Miss Vicco was another woman.

SONDER YACHTS

Work of Selecting Fastest Ones Begun

MARBLEHEAD, Aug. 15.—The arduous work of selecting the fastest trios from a fleet of 19 sonder or special tipped yachts, by putting them through a series of short six mile sprints began at here today and is expected that on Saturday the international committee of the Eastern Yacht club will name the three yachts which will represent America in the third yachting struggle with Germany. During the first three days the yachts will sail three races each, and in order to avoid crowding they will be started in three divisions at two minute intervals. After Wednesday it is expected that there will be elimination and that the final races on Saturday will be sailed by probably a scant half dozen survivors. The yachts were divided as follows:

First Division: Bonelli, Cornhill, Crooner, Joyner, Spikane III, and Wag. Second Division: Bonelli, Dancer, Ed, Ellen, Manchester III, Sumatra and Vim. Third Division: Albin, Carabba, Lady, Sally X, Slukey and Wolf.

The preliminary season for the sonder yachts began in June and there have been more than 25 tests between some of the boats. The Sally X, Wolf, Crooner, Spikane III, Lucy and Bonelli have met more than a dozen times in Massachusetts Bay waters. The New York Yacht club, the Bonelli, the Cornhill, the Joyner, the Dancer, the Ed, the Ellen, the Manchester III, the Sumatra and the Vim, have comparatively few trials with their competitors.

The other sixteen yachts are entered from the Eastern, Corinthian, Boston, Quincy and Beverly yacht clubs. The sonder trials this year, like those of 1906 and 1907, are off Marblehead Rock at the western entrance of Salem bay and within a few minutes launch sail of the summer capital at Beverly in case President Taft saw fit to re-echo the golf links for the season.

The trials are always interesting, picturesque and wonderfully full of speed. The sonder yachts are of the type like a flash, can turn in her own length and tack in less than five seconds. The night for place at the start is always hot and the three men on each boat count the seconds and the first before the starting bell on the committee boat falls when the yachts are sometimes within ten yards of the line. Five seconds later they are over and the race is on.

It is the intention of the committee in starting the races to give the boats a moderate windward and leeward and triangular course of six miles each, the triangular course being two miles to a leg and the windward and leeward three miles to the turning buoy. Among those who went out to the start today were the German yachtsmen who arrived at Marblehead last night and who were guests on board the day before.

A big sea, blowing in from the east, soon ran off stage greeted the boats as they beat out of the harbor against a ten knot southeaster. The sky was lowering and there were frequent showers of rain. The heavy weather kept even an expected throng of spectators and only half a dozen of the larger craft accompanied the yachts out to the start. It was an off day for the yachts and every boat showed a yellow flag. In the first of the big sea there was not sufficient wind to starten sail and all the boats came out without sails. It was late a. m. when the committee boat took up its position about two miles outside the rock and had to signal the course.

The new method of starting by hoisting and dropping a black ball seemed to work to perfection. The first division of six boats went out sharp at 10.10, the Joyce winning the honors by getting the buoy close aboard within five seconds after the signal. The start of the second division was the best in the first race, six boats being closely bunched. It seemed as if a good sized blanket would have covered them all. In this division the Albin, owned and sailed by Miss Alice Sargent, sailed in a black sheet with a red man's rope around her waist, beat out her male competitors in the first or place at the line.

The race started in the third division and in that bunch the Sally X and the best of it. The committee set the yachts on a trying course in the first race with a two mile stretch to windward and a two mile stretch to leeward. At 10.40 the Joyce was leading the first division, the Dancer was ahead in the second and the Wolf was showing the way in the third.

The first division boats made the fastest time on the beat to windward, the Joyce and Crooner covering the two mile beat in 21 minutes and 21 seconds respectively. The Ellen came in third in the second division and the second division was a surprise and two seconds in making the distance, while the Skeezix was in third place. The second division boats made the fastest time on the beat to windward, the Joyce and Crooner covering the two mile beat in 21 minutes and 21 seconds respectively. The Ellen came in third in the second division and the second division was a surprise and two seconds in making the distance, while the Skeezix was in third place.

First Division: Bonelli, Cornhill, Crooner, Joyner, Spikane III, and Wag. Second Division: Bonelli, Dancer, Ed, Ellen, Manchester III, Sumatra and Vim. Third Division: Albin, Carabba, Lady, Sally X, Slukey and Wolf.

THE MAYOR OUR SOLDIER BOYS

Accepts Resignation of Commissioners Harris and MacBrayne

He Says Report That He Interfered in Liquor Cases May Be One of "MacBrayne's Sensational Freaks"—Mr. Harris Will Not Talk—Commissioner Burns Has Not Resigned

Mayor Brown has accepted the resignations of his police commissioners, Simon B. Harris and Winfred C. MacBrayne, and he brands as "absolutely false" the substance of the MacBrayne interview which appeared in the Boston Post on Saturday morning. In accepting Mr. MacBrayne's resignation the mayor tells him that the office of private secretary to the chief executive is no longer open to him.

"Do you deny that you dictated in any way to the police board as to who should be prosecuted and who should not be prosecuted?" asked The Sun reporter.

"I certainly do deny it and I will not stand for the insinuation. I have been fair and above board in all my dealings with the police board and I will not allow

To Go Unchallenged any statements that have been made to the contrary. I would call your attention to an interview that I had with the police board on July 31."

Mayor Brown at this point called to his private secretary to produce the book called "Sensational Freaks" and under date of July 31, the mayor turned to the following words by him to the board of police:

"I have no favors to ask. You are free to live up to your oath of office. I expect you to clean up the liquor business to the satisfaction of the people and to bring the police department up to a high standard of efficiency. Does that look as if I tried to control, influence, intimidate or influence them to make flesh of one and fish of another? I ask that the people of Lowell demand judgment at this time and that the different matters now pending, both official and personal, are cleared up. I want the public to hear with me until I have time to make a statement."

"Then the alleged MacBrayne interview in the Boston Post was false was said the reporter.

"I certainly was free from beginning to end" replied the mayor.

"If the MacBrayne interview in the Boston Post was false what do you suppose induced him to say that you wanted to drop certain liquor cases?"

"If he said it I don't know what he meant by it. It may have been one of MacBrayne's Sensational Freaks" said the mayor.

What do you suppose, both Mr. Harris and Mr. MacBrayne, mean by stating in their letter of resignation that they could not serve unless you and retain their self respect?" queried the reporter.

"I cannot say what was meant by it. They knew that I did not have the right to say that. I think they meant that they could not have had a good time on the Tuesday night that I went before the board on the liquor case but I felt that I was right. I have no apologies to offer. The board

Company C Loses Lieut. Burns and Sergt. Patten Who Go to Ohio With Mass. Rifle Team—"Bill" Decatur Performs His 43rd Camp Duty

In Camp Bridgewater, Mass., Aug. 15.

Everyone was bustling at the Westford street armory Saturday morning in preparation for the annual tour of camp duty which will be one of the most strenuous weeks of duty put up by the local companies for some time. All the men of the Lowell companies put in a very busy morning packing their belongings. The three local companies were assembled at 7.45 dressed in their khaki uniforms with white collars and cuffs, wooden blanket, rubber blanket and shelter and tent plus. The men were glad to hear that the overcoats were to be shipped as they had enough to carry. They carried their haversacks and canteens attached to the new shoulder belt. The companies marched down Westford street to the railroad, to the depot where the train was in readiness for their departure. At 8.15 the train pulled out for Lowell and for Bridgewater, Mass.

Company C is without the services of Lieut. Peterson and Burns and Sergt. Patten. Lieut. Peterson has been detailed as inspector of the artillery and Sergt. Patten has been detailed as a member of the Mass. rifle team which leaves today for Camp Perry, Ohio, to represent this state at the National shoot at Camp Perry, Ohio. Company M of the 8th regiment left the armory late for the depot where the train pulled out for Lowell and for Bridgewater, Mass.

The following squad of "Rookies" will be put through their stunts by "Colonel Bonaparte" with the able assistance of "Adjutant" Adam Myrick. These two men are considered experts in this line of work. As "Colonel" Bonaparte says, "I love my captain but Oh you rookies."

Second Lieut. Fred G. Mottram of Co. G has been detailed as quartermaster on the train for Bridgewater.

Privates Thomas Doran of Co. G has been detailed as quartermaster on the train for Bridgewater.

Privates Bill Decatur of Co. C is in charge of the wagon train. This is his first tour of duty. It would seem natural to go to camp without Bill. He saw 12 musters while a member of the 1st Cavalry of Connecticut, which is disbanded now. He then entered in Co. C in 1878 and has yet to make a camp since joining that command.

Private Jack Irving of Co. G has been detailed as quartermaster on the train for Bridgewater.

Private Frank of Co. K, son of the late Frank, the well known man, has gained quite a reputation as a scout. He was recently promoted for his duty in that line. It is rumored that he is thinking of leaving the army and of going to join the regular army.

Joe Perkins, the well known Pawnee hunter, was an enthusiastic scout. He was recently promoted for his duty in that line. It is rumored that he is thinking of leaving the army and of going to join the regular army.

Another family of Pawnee hunters, the family of the late Frank, the well known man, has gained quite a reputation as a scout. He was recently promoted for his duty in that line. It is rumored that he is thinking of leaving the army and of going to join the regular army.

Says Census Must be Free of Politics

BEVERLY, Aug. 16.—In a letter addressed yesterday to Secretary Nagle of the department of commerce and labor, President Taft served notice that any man engaged in the taking of the fifth census of the United States who engages in politics in any way will immediately be dismissed from the service.

Outside of casting their votes the president believes that census supervisors and enumerators should keep

The president orders that the secretary of commerce and labor and the director of the census embody in the regulations governing the taking of the census the rule so forcibly laid down in his letter.

A pupilist finally released the woman after the pupilist had looked it up, and a bad job and she was hooked at Station 3 on a charge of assault and battery.

The Winn woman, who is 22, was arrested several nights ago. Wadcott baited her out and heard a rumor last night that she was going to leave the city. He went to her home on Porter street and while he was ringing the front bell Miss Winn jumped from a rear window.

Wadcott heard her footsteps and started in pursuit. She kept ahead for some time, but was finally caught at the corner of Pleasant and Fayette

ST. JOHN'S HOSPITAL

Lowell's Great Charity Makes Important Developments

Pathological and X-Ray Departments — Perfected Sanitary Features Have Been Installed — Marked Development of Institution Within a Few Years

"He was taken in the ambulance to St. John's hospital."

For the past generation in Lowell the day has seldom passed that some reporter has not written for his paper the familiar sentence, "He was taken to St. John's hospital."

The religious sentiment of suffering humanity, the doors of St. John's hospital are never closed. In the hallway lights are ever burning, and the sick and mangled of every color, creed and nationality find their way in there at all hours of the day and night, receive the best of skilled care and attendance and go away when restored to health without in many cases leaving behind them even a single "thank you" for the good Sisters of Charity, the skillful physicians and surgeons, and the patient nurses who have saved their lives.

Within the past few years under the efficient administration of Rev. Sister Raphael, the present superior, St. John's hospital has developed wonderfully and today will vie with any similar institution in appointments and equipment, despite the fact that its endowments and bequests are like angels' visits, few and far between, and of only modest proportions. It is here where the most trying of all kinds of cases has been handled for many years.

But in writing of St. John's hospital, one who is familiar with the history of the institution finds himself considering, first, the emergency feature of the institution, a great department in itself where the most trying of all kinds of cases are treated upon their arrival and never a word asked about payment. All is silence within the building except for the muffled tread of the night nurses and of the venerable Sister Martina, who presides over the institution at night and wound date back to the bloody battlefields and the tented hospitals of Civil war days. The clang of the ambulance bell is heard as it drives hurriedly within the gates of the hospital yard. Within a twinkling the lights are burning brightly in the emergency operating room on the street door on the Fayette street side, while house surgeons and nurses wait at the threshold as the ambulance attendants carry in on a stretcher some silent form perhaps horribly mangled by a traffic, maybe an unfortunate who has attempted self-defense or even the victim of a would-be assassin. No questions are asked as to who he may be or how and why it happened. He is taken in and everything known to medical and surgical skill is done in his behalf. When he has recovered sufficiently to leave he is discharged and he goes his way, in almost 99 out of 100 cases he is never heard from again and seldom a cent from him passes into the hospital treasury to recompense the good sisters for the treatment given him. During the year 1908, 584 accident cases were treated at the hospital. Of these, 97 paid something. Some gave 25 cents, some 50 cents, a few gave a dollar and less gave $5. Four hundred and eighty-nine accident cases were treated without the payment of one cent. In order to make statistics as to the monetary value of this average cost of each case is $3, a ridiculously low average. With such a basis the cost of 584 cases would be $1758. Granting that the 97 who paid, gave up to the average, which is stretching the truth, the hospital received $221, leaving a deficit for accident cases of $1537. In the case of mill accidents the victims are taken to the Corporation hospital which is supported by the corporations of the city. But the poor and friendless when misfortune overtakes them are hustled to St. John's hospital where they receive the same skilled care and necessary attention as if they were able to pay well for treatment. All nationalities are included in the emergency list, 25 nationalities being found recorded there during the past year. There have been cases of foreigners whose names have never been learned, but who have been restored to health and no questions asked.

While referring to the emergency department of the institution the attention of the public is called to the charitable feature of the hospital proper. There are many misguided people in Lowell, some of whom have been recipients of the fostering care of the hospital who profess to believe that the hospital receives an adequate amount of money and that money received there is sent elsewhere. Such statements are cruelly unkind and untrue. In the hospital proper during 1908 there were 895 patients and of these, 249 were charity patients who paid nothing, 293 were part pay patients who paid something but not enough to cover the expense of their treatment and care, while 417 or less than half the entire number paid full rates. Then in addition to the hospital there is a free dispensary or out-patient department which treated 4497 cases in the past year.

Within Hospital Walls

Many people who have never had the doubtful fortune to get inside of a hospital have the most erroneous conception of what the place is like and they shudder at the mention of the name "hospital" for it suggests a coldness, approaching gruesomeness to their minds. Many have been known to say that they would rather die than go to a hospital, but who once within its kindly protection laugh at the fears that had haunted them and grow eloquent in explaining how much they were mistaken.

To some "hospital" and particularly "hospital ward" suggests pauperism, the last place on earth, as it were, and here again they are miles from a right conception for the patient in the ward is as comfortable and as well cared for as the patient in a private room.

After an absence of a few years from the hospital, a reporter of The Sun called there last week and upon entering the main door was struck with surprise and admiration over the great improvements beginning at the very threshold. While the entrance to the hospital always presented a mildly cheerful aspect it is now positively inviting. The main hallway and the office and reception room on either side of it have been completely renovated and redecorated with ornamental designs, metal ceilings and tiled floors, colored, metal wainscoting, enamel walls. Passing into the main hall on which are located some of the wards, the infirmary, emergency operating room, etc., the same scheme of redecoration has been carried out and likewise throughout. The upper floors all presenting an immaculate appearance.

Improved Appointments

One of the new improvements that strikes the visitor as most important is the installation of four new bath rooms, one on each floor, with tub and shower baths, upon plumbing throughout and the floor and walls, sanitary and being arranged in the appointments of these rooms. Another improvement that has been added which is a delight to the surgeon's heart is the installation of four up-to-date sinks in the main operating room of the latest design which are operated by pedal arrangement exclusively, that is to say, the foot and cold water and even the soap (liquid) are turned on and off by foot, so that the surgeon touches nothing with his hands.

Adding to the main operating room the hospital has added a very comfortable lounge room for the surgeons which is used by them before and during operations. It is completely furnished with a view to comfort and wherever a surgeon or the furnishings knew his or her business.

While mentioning the improvements at the hospital in appointments and equipment it is not to be made to the "Curses' Easy Corner" which is all that its name implies and for which the nurses are indebted to Sister Raphael, who is highly appreciative of the good work of the nursing staff of the training school which has turned out many expert nurses who have since made their mark before the world in their chosen and most commendable profession. The room was originally a lecture room for the nurses and is used for that purpose now. Sister Raphael has transformed it into a pleasant recreation room where the nurses may spend their leisure hours in a most enjoyable manner. One of the new features of this room is a Packard piano recently presented to the hospital by a lady friend of Sister Raphael, of Philadelphia, who has furnished the use of the piano and has put at the disposal of the institution a beautiful recreation room where the nurses may spend their leisure hours in a most enjoyable manner. One of the new features of this room is a Packard piano recently presented to the hospital by a lady friend of Sister Raphael, of Philadelphia, who has furnished the use of the piano and has put at the disposal of the institution a beautiful recreation room where the nurses may spend their leisure hours in a most enjoyable manner.

Some of the nurses are accomplished musicians and spend many a happy hour in singing and instrumental music. The beautiful statue of the Blessed Virgin on a pedestal with candles on either side adorns one corner of the room while it also contains a large centre table, chairs and couches and a library. The room is located in the rear of the building, the part devoted to the nurses and nuns exclusively and is entirely apart from the hospital proper and no noise or odors or otherwise finds its way from the nurses' apartments to those of the patient. So much for the improvements in the appointments, etc. The truly great improvements in St. John's hospital within recent years are in the department of building with disease, the adoption of the most modern methods, which place St. John's on an equal footing with the most advanced hospitals in America. An article in a Boston paper recently placed Boston at the head of the world in advancement in surgery and medicine. Some of the methods that are making Boston the advanced of the world of medicine are to be found in St. John's hospital, which has been so successful in its substitution in medicine that depends on charity for its support.

Pathological Department

The establishment and development of the pathological department of the hospital is one of the great advances made by St. John's. This department is less than two years old but has long since proved its great importance. A full laboratory equipment is being installed at a cost of $500. The department is in charge of Dr. Joseph Kearney, of this city who gives his entire attention to its work. Dr. Kearney is a graduate of Tufts and has made a specialty of pathology and the Oculic theory. After graduating he became a pathologist at St. Mary's children's hospital, Dorchester, and later moved to Tufts as assistant in pathology at Tufts Medical school.

The pathological department of any institution is that which has to do with the study of disease and its causes. Today, in Boston and the other larger cities of the country, much attention is being directed to this department by the hospital authorities. They realize that upon the work done in this department depends largely the progress of medicine and surgery.

In a word it is through this same department that modern medicine of today has passed in all its stages of development.

When Dr. Martin "Ever onward" the Sisters of Charity, together with the staff of St. John's hospital, appreciating the high standard of the hospital and wishing to maintain the same have decided to completely renovate the pathological department of the institution, placing it on a footing as to complete equipment with that in the best hospitals of the country. No other of which has been spared in the effort to place the pathological department on a footing with the best hospitals of the country.

foreign bodies and diagnosing various bone lesions.

It has in many cases caused the prompt healing of wounds because it has done away with the necessity of probing for bullets and other foreign bodies. The foreign body may be located and then, if thought best, cut down upon and removed.

In obscure cases of fracture about the hip, knee, ankle, shoulder, elbow and wrist, the X-ray makes an accurate diagnosis possible.

In the treatment of all these conditions it has been of great value in determining the exact course to be pursued and-accordingly.

The radiograph has been used, for some purpose, every day since it was installed.

The Hospital Staff

Two new house doctors have just started upon their duties and they are Dr. M. J. and Dr. Parsons, both of Philadelphia. In addition to the staff of the hospital, the world of medicine and surgery, being a relative of Prof. Anders, author of "Theory and Practice in Medicine." The surgical staff consists of Dr. R. E. Bell, Dr. Joe V. Mages, who is in attendance at the present time, Dr. T. Smith and Dr. J. L. Parsons. The medical staff are Dr. J. H. O'Connor, Dr. M. J. McGowan, Dr. Leonard M. Huntress, Dr. William A. Johnson, Dr. William P. Lawler and Dr. Edward J. Welch, Ophthalmologist, otologist and laryngologist, G. H. A. Leachy, M. D., consulting pathologist, Joseph E. Burnham, R. Renner, M. D., consulting dermatologist, T. F. Carroll, M. D.

In the out-patient department are: Physicians—G. A. Leachy, M. D., J. T. Brennan, M. D., E. J. Clark, M. D., C. M. Brougham, M. D., Surgeons—M. J. McGowan, M. D., R. H. Pillsbury, M. D., R. M. Malone, M. D., Dr. E. J. Coburn, M. D., Ophthalmologist and laryngologist, G. H. A. Leachy, M. D., Consulting neurologist, Burnham, R. Renner, M. D., consulting dermatologist, T. F. Carroll, M. D.

In concluding an article on St. John's the following quotation from the last annual report of the institution is quite appropriate:

"The dream of the 'Memorial Annex' is still a dream—yet, patience. 'All things come to those who wait,' and shall we not hope that the seed sown in our last report has sunk deep down in some benevolent heart and is even now germinating, to bring forth fruit long in a beautiful addition to St. John's hospital. Assuredly this is needed, and it would be a decided step forward in that progress which is carried the institution simply on account of insufficient financial resources. Still we are hopeful, for we are well convinced that every cloud has a silver lining; and this cloud, even, which obscures long cherished designs, will be dispelled ere long and our plans will appear complete in all their brightness. At present the most pressing need is for emergency cases, wards for children and a few private rooms. An annex such as would relieve the present congested condition of the hospital, could be managed easily with but little additional expense."

Addressed Parishioners at St. Peter's

Rev. Dr. D. J. Keleher, the new pastor of St. Peter's church, made his first appearance before the parishioners yesterday. Dr. Keleher sang mass at 7 o'clock and occupied the pulpit at 8 and 10:30 masses. The 8 o'clock mass was sung by Rev. Daniel J. McFarland and the 10:30 by Rev. John J. O'Brien.

In his remarks Dr. Keleher spoke of Archbishop O'Connell's great love for St. Peter's parish and his desire that the great work so ably begun by Fr. Roman might be continued without ceasing until its accomplishment. He alluded in eloquent words to the late Fr. Roman, whose life he said was a beautiful exemplification of Catholic ideals. He told of the beloved pastor's great work among his people, and how he had built up the church from the time of his appointment as pastor, and expressed the desire that the work should go on and that the parish should cooperate with the new pastor in peace and harmony. Dr. Keleher then preached eloquently on the mystery of the Assumption. There were 200 persons present at high mass.

Feast of Assumption

Yesterday was the Feast of the Assumption of the Blessed Virgin Mary, popularly known as "Lady Day," and was observed in all local Catholic churches.

The Assumption Day services at St. Anthony's church were particularly impressive. The altar was a beautiful adorned with flowers and candles in honor of the occasion. High mass was celebrated by Rev. J. Perot and the sermon was delivered by the pastor, Fr. Rosa. A large number of the ladies of the Holy Rosary sodality were present and received holy communion in a body. At the offertory Gay's "Salve Regina" was sung by Peter A. Clune.

Remembrance of the blessed sacrament was given at the close of mass, the "20 Salvars" being sung by Mr. E. S. Brown. The sanctuary choir sang during the service, Miss Lulu Gray was the organist.

Rev. Mr. Tomkinson at First Baptist Church—Rev. Charles E. Hutchinson Preached at St. Anne's Church

Rev. John Welsh, D. D., preached at the First Presbyterian church, last evening, his text being Isaiah 41:10. "All the way shall worship Thee, and shall sing unto thee they shall sing to Thy Name." In part the speaker said:

"When everywhere were brought to this faith, that this is not a forsaken and forgotten world, but a world made with a purpose and God, they would have their hearts in worship, and rejoice to sing praise to the Most High."

"When we stop long enough to think there are many things for us to delight in. In the true mythology, love is an immortal child, and beauty leads him as a guide, not as we express a deeper sense than when we say beauty is the plot of the young soul, but we must distinguish between real and artificial beauty—the most natural beauty in the world is honesty and moral worth, for all beauty is truth."

"We stand in need of more frankness in statement and life without pretense—we become more attractive in our daily walk of life if we are true and honest in all of our dealings with fellow men."

"None can honestly love freedom but good men; the rest love not freedom, but license, which never hath more indulgence than under tyrants. If you have a slave to sin, in the name of the Father, the church and her ministry, set him free from all sin with a good conscience, which we should all delight in."

Dr. Welsh is a former Lowell boy, and is now pastor of the First Presbyterian church, Wilmington, Illinois, which is only a few miles out from Chicago. He will remain in this city for another week, and upon his return will visit in the cities of Montreal and Toronto, Canada, also Niagara Falls, and other points of interest.

First Baptist Church

At the First Baptist church, Sunday evening, Rev. Mr. Tomkinson, preached upon "Judgment." There was a very large attendance. The service was held by Mr. Arthur Bohman, and solo by Mr. Wilby and Mr. Parkinson. Miss Emma Cote presided at the organ.

At St. Anne's Church

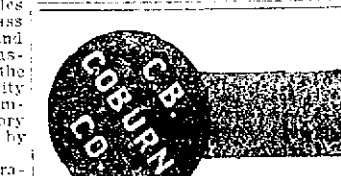

Rev. Charles E. Hutchinson preached at St. Anne's church Sunday morning. He found his inspiration in the 10th chapter of Luke, 11st and 12nd verses. In part, he said:

"In this text we find an illustration of the type of person one meets on some pleasant day, and who, though willing to say it is a pleasant day, always qualifies the statement by saying, 'I am never quite satisfied.' I suppose a majority of us are quite like that; something is always taking the brightness of our happiness. The sun shines, but there is a cloud between us and the sun; and we spend a good deal of time trying to blow the cloud away. A majority of us are quite certain that something, somehow, we shall find in this world something that is going to satisfy us. Then we are disappointed, and are in the depths of despair. Most of us are so stupid and blind that we do not know what it is that we miss out of our lives. The only thing that can give us peace is Almighty God. The only place we can find peace, is in Almighty God. The only way we can know Almighty God is through Jesus Christ. The only peace that can come into our souls is through him."

"A man said to me the other day, that if everybody lived according to the Christian standard, it would be all right, but he guided his life by Christian principles and other people did not, by and he would have no fortune at all. By and he would not have this thing which is to him now a source of happiness, and so he had decided that the Christian religion is death. He had gotten just back to the truth, and was about to go any further. He said that in the Christian religion there must necessarily be the cross, and he said, 'It is death. I do not dare go on.'"

"We are not fit to be Christians, if we are not willing to bear the cross and die the death of Christ."

WOMAN MURDERED INCENDIARY FIRE SCHOONER LOST

New York's Chinatown Aroused by Terrible Crime

NEW YORK, Aug. 15.—Chinatown was a turmoil again early yesterday on discovery of the murder of the most beautiful of the few Chinese women in New York, Row Kim, 21 years old, who came here from San Francisco about a year ago with an Americanized Chinaman, Chin Len, 31 years old.

It was about 2 o'clock yesterday morning, just as the usual Saturday night revelry was quieting down, that Chin Len, who lives at 17 Mott street, crying "My woman has been murdered!" The street, filled with listening Chinamen and parties of American "lightweights," all of whom quickly created the sensational murder of Miss Kim, the missionary girl, was thrown into great excitement. A policeman and a detective hurried into the house under Len's direction, through dark hallways, to a rear room on the second floor. The door was to be locked and the officers were about to break it in when Len pushed them aside and unlocked it himself. In a bedroom lay the murdered woman on the floor, stabbed in half a dozen places. Her slender neck was ringed with bloody finger marks, indicating a struggle with her assailant, and beside her lay a crumpled hunting knife.

It was evident that the woman had been dead for two or three hours. On the stairs were found traces of blood and on a door leading to the store of Yuen Chin & Co. on the ground floor. Three Chinamen there were arrested, although they denied any knowledge of the murder. Six American women who had been themselves to be the wives of Chinamen, were also found in the house and arrested, but none would admit any knowledge of Bow Kim's death. In the murdered woman's room were found many business letters in Chinese, but none that gave a clue. At 22 Mott street, however, where Len spent much of his time and where the couple lived previously, was found a trunk which Len admitted was his wife's property. In it were found four hunting knives, a stiletto,

In a House in Davidson Street Crew Without Food for 60 Hours

A fire which is thought to have been of incendiary origin was discovered at 23 Davidson street about 1:20 o'clock this morning. The fire started behind a door on the second floor and had destroyed the door and was eating its way up along the wall to the third floor when discovered.

The fire was discovered by E. P. Pappas, who lives on the second floor, but neither he nor the other occupants of the house were able to give the police any clue as to the cause of the fire.

IROQUOIS MILLS

CONTRACTS FOR INSTALLATION OF HEATING PLANT

LYNN, Mass., Aug. 16.—Contracts have been let for the plumbing and the installation of the heating plant at the Iroquois Mills at Saugus, one of the plants of the United States Western Co. The extra story which is being added to one of the mill buildings will be completed in about a week. These mills manufacture high grade mens wear in broadcloth, overcoating, woolsens and worsteds.

VICTOR PAPPAS

FELL DOWN STAIRS AND WAS INJURED

Victor Pappas, residing at the corner of Salem and Adams streets, fell down stairs last night about 9:45 o'clock at his home and received a cut on his knee. The ambulance was summoned and he was removed to the Lowell hospital where six stitches were required to close the wound. He was later taken to his home.

ENTERTAINED AT CAMP

John Martin and Charles Scarf, of this city, entertained about 30 of their friends yesterday at Camp Wampanoag on the banks of the Merrimack river. The guests began to arrive about nine o'clock in the morning and at noon an excellent dinner was served. In the afternoon a pleasing entertainment program was carried out. Albert Robertson and John Robertson conducted several piano and violin solos.

GLOUCESTER, Aug. 16.—The loss of the New York schooner, Annie Bliss, off Cape Sable last Wednesday morning was reported yesterday when six men of the crew were landed by the Gloucester fishing schooner, Lily, which picked up the men Friday morning after they had been adrift at sea in an open boat without food or drink for 60 hours. The rescued men are Captain Eggs Bentley, Mate W. H. Dimson, Steward Harrison Cannon, George Anderson, Oliver Olson, and Cook R. P. Bridges. All come from Boston, C. I., except the captain and cook, who belong in New York.

The Bliss left Shulze, N. S., on August 5 with a cargo of fish for New York. On Tuesday, the 10th, the vessel ran into a northeaster, which swept away the deckload and caused the Bliss to labor heavily. Just before dawn on Wednesday a big wave threw the ship on her beam ends and the crew was obliged to take to the tender. There was but one of these boats and in the high seas it was difficult to keep the boat head on to the waves, she rapidly filled with water and old shoes were used to ball her out. At noon the next day the gale abated, but the men suffered severely from hunger and thirst. The day a steamer was sighted in the distance but apparently the small boat was not seen. Just as dawn broke on Friday morning, the 14th, however, a schooner was seen three miles distant and was hailed by means of a shirt fastened to an oar. The schooner immediately came down upon the boat and picked up the men, who were greatly exhausted.

The Bliss was lost off Bear Island, near the southern end of Nova Scotia, about 135 miles to the westward, as near as could be learned. She was owned by Shulze and Company, New York, and was captained by Captain Eggs Bentley. Her gross tonnage was 234 and 1577. Her length 157 feet, breadth 24 feet and her depth was 11.3.

INTENT TO KILL

Is Charged Against a Brockton Man

BROCKTON, Aug. 16.—Frank Chernowski, aged 25, of 135 Ames street, this city, is under arrest charged with assault with intent to kill his sister-in-law, Mrs. Caroline Chernowski, of 122 Ames street. She is at the Brockton hospital with a bullet in her breast. Chernowski was arrested by Inspectors Saunders and Lays in the house at 122 Ames street, occupied wholly by Lithuanians and where the shooting is alleged to have taken place. It was the second shooting affray in that section within six weeks.

At the hospital it was stated that Mrs. Chernowski's condition is serious, although her recovery is expected. One bullet first bored its way through her left hand and then entered her breast.

A 2-year-old baby, unable to speak, is stated to have been the only witness to the shooting. Chernowski has made no statement.

POLO FRANCHISE

WAS AWARDED THE CITY OF WATERBURY

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Aug. 16.—The city of Waterbury, Connecticut, was awarded a franchise in the National polo league, thereby completing a league of eight clubs by the officials of the league, who met at the Crown hotel here yesterday, and took up the unwieldy business of last Sunday's adjourned meeting. The franchise was awarded to Waterbury and Mass. two players and the team, like that of Taunton, will be made up of the surplus players of the other clubs.

Several changes in the rules were made, the most important being the adoption of new foul rules. In case of a foul, the side not at fault will be allowed a free drive. At the edge of the side making the foul, another new rule adopted provides for a change in the time of the last period from 15 minutes to 20 minutes. All the clubs in the league were represented at the meeting and a schedule committee was appointed.
